Changes to ANDRITZ business areas

- New business area established: Environment & Energy
- Hydro business area renamed Hydropower
- New financial reporting structure as of Q1 2024

GRAZ, JANUARY 18, 2024. To align its business activities even more closely with the markets served, international technology group ANDRITZ has combined several of its environmental and energy-focused technologies in one business area named “Environment & Energy”.

ANDRITZ Environment & Energy focuses on sustainable solutions. Its comprehensive product portfolio includes systems for green hydrogen, P2X, carbon capture, flue gas cleaning, solid/liquid separation, feed and food processing, and pumps for various processes.

The business area offers these systems, as well as related automation and digitalization solutions and services, to a wide range of industries.

ANDRITZ now operates with the following four business areas:

- Pulp & Paper
- Hydropower (renamed from “Hydro”)
- Metals
- Environment & Energy

The new business area structure will be reflected in the company’s financial reporting starting in Q1 2024.
