

CompaCon TS conveyors

Flexible, efficient bulk material handling

ANDRITZ offers a range of CompaCon TS conveyors which provide efficient, high-quality solutions for bulk materials handling. The designs use standard components as building blocks so that the conveyors can be tailored for product and process.

ANDRITZ is a full-line supplier of production systems with decades of experience in mechanical design and manufacturing. “Full-line” to ANDRITZ also covers the sub-systems which connect the processes.

CompaCon TS conveyors are available in a variety of configurations – pressurized and atmospheric – which are utilized not only to transport bulk materials, but also perform dilution, dewatering, metering, shredding, mixing, cooling, etc.

Main customer benefits

- High quality components ensure reliable performance
- Design flexibility to match specific plant, process, and product requirements
- Standard components simplify configuration, operation, and maintenance
- Fast installation
- Adaptable to a wide range of bulk materials

Advantages

- Cost efficiency. Our automated design-to-manufacturing process reduces engineering and production times. We maintain a global network of workshops in order to source the most economical manufacturing, with the lowest transportation costs.
- Proven technology. From simple conveying and transport (where reliability is paramount) to metering and levelling applications (where accuracy impacts the quality and stability of the process), ANDRITZ has the experience to deliver a superior solution.
- Support. We offer complete technical support and service through a global network of local service centers.
